TOUGH TOURNEY!

Attucks Draws Irish And Tech in Same Day

The Attucks Tigers must beat Cathedral and Tech on the same day—next Friday, Feb. 29—in order to advance in the sectional tourney, according to the draw announced Thursday.

Attucks, Tech and Cathedral, rated 1-2-3 in the local sectional, are all packed into the lower bracket.

Cathedral's rugged Irish are the only local team to have thrown a scare into Attucks. The Irish led into the fourth quarter before succumbing 52-47. Attucks and Tech have not met.

The fateful Friday—a day that wouldn't exist if it were not Leap Year—will begin with Tech playing Beech Grove at 8:30 a. m. The Greenclads couldn't lose that one if they tried.

The Attucks-Cathedral battle will follow at 9:45 a. m. Winners of these two games will meet at 7 p. m. Friday.

Draw Favors Tech

The draw favored the strong Tech quintet in two respects. In the first place, the Greenclads probably won't even work up a sweat against the Beechies, while Attucks and Cathedral might battle right down to the wire. The winner of the first game will be rested, the winner of the second game likely exhausted.

Secondly, Tech will have an extra hour and a quarter rest before the evening contest.

The drawing was made Wednesday in the office of IHSAA Commissioner L. V. Phillips, with daily newspapermen and wire service men participating.

Schedule for the Indianapolis sectional follows:

WEDNESDAY
7:00 p. m.—(1) Warren Central vs. Manual
8:15 p. m.—(2) Washington vs. Broad Ripple

The eight year limit for pastors which law has been in effect for the past four years.

Whether the church will retain her "Dollar Money" system and use general days, such as Easter and Educational Days, or whether the church will allow some bishops and conferences to set up budge's and per capita tations unauthorized by the general church.

The Bishops Council includes some 18 bishops from all sections of the nation, South and West Africa, South America and the islands of the seas. The Rev. John A. Gregg, bishop Florida, is president of the council and the Rev. Sherman L. Green is secretary.

Dr. Archibald J. Carey, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Chicago, is president of the Connectional Council which includes general officers, ministers and laymen.

Japanese Barred From Negro School in Okla.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—In Oklahoma a Japanese is white. That's what the state attorney general ruled last week in denying permission of a Japanese to enroll at Langston University, the state's school for Negroes.

This would be a violation of state segregation laws, he said. The students wrote Gov. Johnston Murray from Japan that he wishes to enroll at Langston because he had become acquainted with some of the school's graduates in Tokyo.

State Law Cited
Fred Hansen, Oklahoma Assistant Attorney General, told G. L. Harrison, president of Langston, that a Japanese is a white person under Oklahoma segregation laws, and that if the course he seeks to study is offered at a white institution, then he cannot attend Langston. Japanese attend the state's white public schools. The Japanese has written in his letter that he wanted to attend Langston under the foreign student exchange system of the U. S. State Department.

Meanwhile, the Oklahoma Attorney General recently held that a private institution for white students, Phillips at Enid, cannot accept a Negro student for undergraduate study.

Henry Hobart, director of Phillips, said the unidentified colored Air Force base soldier was a "fine, intelligent lad." He added that the university looked with favor on accepting him if state laws had permitted it.

The U. S. Supreme Court ordered Oklahoma in 1948 to admit state Negroes to state-supported white institutions for courses of study not offered at Langston.

Ind. State Police Seek Mystery Slayer

Maid Killed in Hagerstown Wealthy Home

By SCOTTY SCOTT

RICHMOND, Ind.—The Sunday night slaying of a beautiful housemaid in the palatial Hagerstown home of her wealthy employer remained a baffling mystery as the victim, Mrs. Anna Webster, was buried Thursday and Midwest state police continued their search for her foster brother in connection with the slaying.

This entire Wayne County section, of which this city is the county seat, was deeply stirred by the discovery of Mrs. Webster's body, slumped on a studio in the elegant living room of the Keagy Mansion, a trail of blood having run from a bullet hole in her forehead down her expensive gray dress to form a puddle on the rug.

An official alert of state police of Indiana has spread throughout surrounding Midwestern states for her alleged slayer and foster brother, Melvin Welch, 30, recently living in Muncie and working as a cement driver.

Welch was described as very fair, easily able to pass for white, with black wavy hair, and very attractive from a woman's viewpoint.

License Plate Found

Officials believe they partly pierced the mystery of where Welch vanished before discovery of the tragedy when they discovered one of the license plates on the car stolen by the alleged killer in his getaway.

Two visitors in the 20-room home of George Keagy, retired executive of the Perfect Circle Corporation at the time Mrs. Webster was slain, were Miss Hazel Dixon, 37, housemaid in the home of Ralph Teetor, president of the Perfect Circle company, and Melvin Blair, her boy friend from Muncie.

Authorities, after releasing both, were able to construct events leading up to the slaying of Mrs. Webster, widow of the late G. Norrell Webster, as follows:

Returned From Florida

Mrs. Webster, who had been in the employ of the Keagys for 11 years and was treated by them on terms somewhat approaching those of a member of the family, had returned the day before Lincoln's Birthday from a two-week vacation in Florida at Miami Beach, leaving

J. Finley Wilson, Elks' Leader, Dies at Capital

By WM. A. CHAMBERS

"The Grand" as he was internationally known, J. Finley Wilson, age 70, grand exalted ruler of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World and one of the most colorful personalities of Negro ancestry of our land and times, died at his home in Washington, D. C., on Tuesday of this week.

He was one of the nation's great fraternal leaders by any yardstick and an enterprising adventurer in many fields. Raised on a farm in Tennessee, he had been a mine worker in the Klondike area of Alaska, in Arizona and Colorado, a railroad worker, a cowboy in Wyoming and Arizona with Buffalo Bill, and a ubiquitous news paper writer, editor and founder.

The order of Elks was organized by B. F. Howard at Cincinnati, Ohio, June 10, 1899. Under the leadership of Mr. Wilson, its membership has grown to more than a half million members in the United States and many foreign countries.

Joined Elks in 1920

He joined the order in 1920. When he was elected grand exalted ruler in 1922 the membership was 30,918 and there were only 303 lodges. Six years later the order boasted 900 lodges and today it has more than 1,500 lodges. They include lodges in Africa, Mexico, Canada, Cuba and various islands of all the Caribbean area.

During the years of the leadership of Mr. Wilson he inaugurated among other activities or programs an educational department, which has sponsored college scholarships for more than 700 students and grants exceeding a million dollars in value.

Mr. Wilson was born Aug. 23, 1881, at Nashville, Tenn., the son of the Rev. James L. and Nancy Wiley Wilson. He was raised on a farm and after attending the public schools of Nashville, he attended Fisk University before setting out on a course of adventure that carried him over almost all of North America.

Active in Newspaper Field
He published the Plaindealer at Salt Lake City, 1900; worked on the staff of the New York Age, Journal and Guide, Norfolk, Va., founded the Baltimore Times, Advocate-Vindicator, Harrisburg, Pa., Sun (later Washington Eagle), and

Tigers Serve Notice on All And Hinshaw

By GEORGE I. TEMPLE

The Attucks-Dunkirk game at Butler Fieldhouse on Wednesday night looked like a contest between Hallie Bryant and the Dunkirk five. Bryant had 10 points at the end of the first quarter, and with the rest of the team obviously feeding him the ball, went on to garner 43 points and bust the city scoring record by a wide margin. With one more game left to play before the madhouse starts, and if he stays anywhere near his present form, Hallie should set a record that will stand for many, many years.

We don't know how many of the 5,000-plus spectators were on hand to scout the Attucks team, but we do know that the 104 to 54 score served notice on ALL AND SUNDAY that the Tiger claws are sharp.

Coach Harold Hinshaw of Tech, an interested observer in the press box, said he would sleep better if he had five men like Al Northington, his stellar Negro guard, to start in the coming hurly-burly. He also predicted a brilliant future for Ernie Sellers, a junior on his squad.

City May Face Suit in Public Housing Rift

The city of Indianapolis may face a suit in federal court if the city council breaks its contracts with the Housing Authority of Indianapolis on the construction of 1,500 public housing units on the southside.

The revelation of the situation was noted at a meeting of the city council this week by Harry V. Wade, chairman of the Housing Authority of Indianapolis. He revealed that the city may face a suit for $275,000 if the city council passes a proposed ordinance rescinding previously made agreements with the Housing Authority of Indianapolis.

The repealer ordinance was presented to the city council by

Bryant Smashes City Record in Fieldhouse Romp

By CHARLES S. PPESTON

In a stupendous display of record-breaking power, Attucks' Tigers whopped Dunkirk 104-54 at Butler Fieldhouse on Wednesday to show they are "super-ready" for next week's sectional.

And they'll have to be—in order to get through the first day's tourney play, they must beat Cathedral in the morning and Tech at night.

While the Crowmen were finding the Fieldhouse much to their liking and pouring it on for the greatest fireworks display of this or any other season, Lady Luck—although they didn't know it at the time—had already handed them a savage one-two punch.

The story of the hardest draw in history is told elsewhere on this page. Suffice it to say that the Tigers must be real champions to come through next Friday's firing and go on toward Hoosierland's top basketball honor. And that's just what they will do, if you can take the word of the estimated 5,000-plus fans who had the time of their lives Thursday watching a magnificent performance.

Bryant Smashes Record

The beloved Hallie Bryant, returning to the top form of his career with the aid of his devoted teammates, smashed the all-time city scoring record to smithereens. He hit 43 points to bring his season's total to 383. (This is the correct figure by official records.)

In so doing Hallie left far in the shade his rival, Dick Myers of Manual. Myers last week had jumped out ahead of Bryant, who had been in a slump for several games. But the Manual guard counted only 9 points against Southport in his last scheduled contest of the season Thursday, and finished with 359 for the year. Bryant has one more game to play, at Winchester on Saturday.

The old record, set by Ray Riley of Sacred Heart two years ago, was 348.

Hitting 18 short and long fielders in 33 tries and 7 free throws in 8 attempts, Hallie "made a fool" of the Recorder sports page, which went to press before the game—but we don't mind a bit being fooled that way.

Gardner's Heroic Sacrifice
With his twisting layups and cool set shots, Bryant was the top scoring hero of the game, but a lion's share of heroism had to go to the self-sacrificing "Dill" Gardner, who gave one of the most remarkable performances this writer has ever seen in a high school game.

All the Tigers were feeding Hallie throughout the evening—obviously under instructions from Coach Ray Crowe—but Gardner's determination that Bryant should break the record just tugged at your heartstrings. GARDNER SIMPLY WOULDN'T SHOOT. Time and again he held the ball in easy scoring position, a couple of feet from the basket, while he looked around the floor for Hallie.

GOP LEADERS BOOST CRAIG FOR GOVERNOR'S NOMINATION

GEORGE N. CRAIG

The nomination of George N. Craig, former national commander of the American Legion, was urged by Republican leaders throughout the state last week. Mr. Craig, a lawyer, is well known as a Republican and in Legion affairs.

Two Republican Congressmen, Charles B. Brownson, Indianapolis, and William G. Bray, Martinsville, were among those urging Mr. Craig to seek the nomination. He was also approved by former Vigo Circuit Court Judge H. DeWitt Owen, Herbert Cripe, Williamsport publisher; Dewey Raper, Monticello, and Wayne M. Armstrong, GOP member of the State Police Board. Speaking before the Republican Lincoln Day Dinner at Logansport last week Mr. Craig said:

"It is now reported that many have long feared that with all our huge expenditures we are losing the arms race with Russia; in fact, not only are we producing less than Russia, in many instances our ordinance is inferior.

Such a situation courts disaster for America. Indeed it imperils world peace for all freedom-loving people. It has been produced because our so-called fair deal leaders did not have confidence in the American people.

For these reasons we have been weakened.

"The Fair Deal has dabbled with socialism, attempted to destroy initiative and freedom of enterprise.

"They have wasted the substance that should have been produced for defense in the political slues.

of graft and corruption. "Men in government have been retained in high offices of trust who were and are incompetent, disloyal, and insensitive to American will and demand.

"Deceit, fraud, and dishonesty in government by political ward heaters have created the greatest era of political immorality in American history.

"They have permitted small political henchmen to build through government waste, at taxpayers' expense, a huge, unproductive bureaucratic empire.

"They have encouraged for the purpose of receiving votes leftist groups that imperil international security.

"The interest and complete attention of the American people to our imperiled situation demands:

"That the right people know what the leftists are doing.

"That we place more thinking caps and fewer brass hats in government.

"That we produce more flights of bombers and fewer flights of fancy.

"We must destroy and refuse to support all unproductive, expensive, useless, politically-expedient departments of government.

"Economy of our state and national wealth must become an every-day practice and not a hackneyed phrase.

"To waste our resources now means we contribute to the success of Russia in our economic war with world Communism.

"We must abandon the Fair Deal national pastime of Hide and Seek—hiding the facts and seeking confidence of the people.

"We must live honestly, recognizing the rights of one another, keeping over in our minds that the rights of citizenship have corresponding duties that must be performed.

"We must have confidence in our government and in ourselves; we must have confidence in our leaders, who so conduct themselves as to warrant confidence.

"By hastening to return to the sound fundamental principles of government it may not be too late to use our stumbling blocks as stepping-stones to strength and peace."

3 AME Bishops Endorse School Plan At Ga. Meet

ATLANTA, Ga. (ANP)—Three Methodist bishops last week spoke out in favor of merging colleges of the AME Church.

Speaking at the annual two-day Georgia state meeting in Macon recently, bishops J. A. Claybourne, Tennessee; W. A. Fountain, Alabama; and S. L. Greene, Georgia, endorsed a plan designed to meet high standards of modern education.

But, since the colleges are controlled by trustees of the states in which the schools are located, final action must come from these trustees.

Meanwhile, the conference passed a resolution asking the return of Bishop Greene to Georgia and addressed the request to the General Conference which will meet in Chicago during May.

Alleged Hold-up Men Face Armed Robbery Charges

Three alleged bandits who used a gun to force Max Taylor, owner of a liquor store at 1309 N. Capitol avenue to stand aside while they scooped up $45.75 from his cash register, were nabbed within ten minutes thereafter Tuesday night.

Charged with armed robbery and held for questioning in connection with a recent filling station holdup-slashing were:

Robert Smith, 22, 749 California; Alonzo Lindsey, 27, 1019 W. Vermont.

Curtis Carpenter, 25, 805 Paea. Taylor said one of the bandits bought a half-pint of whiskey and his buddy took the money from Mrs. Pauline Taylor, the cashier at gun point.

All three were captured in a car at 16th and Senate by police 10 minutes later.

Signed statements by the trio were obtained by detectives and presented to Judge Scott A. McDonald in Municipal Court Room 4 Wednesday.

Each was bound over to the grand jury on the armed robbery charges under $5,000 bond.

Young Matron On Police Dept. Staff As Stenographer

MRS. CHARLOTTE BELL

A charming touch of youthful efficiency was added to the civilian corps of the Indianapolis police department in the recent appointment of Mrs. Charlotte Bell as typist in the records division.

She finished a course in stenography and typing at Central Business College in 1948.

Mrs. Bell lives with her husband, William C. Bell, postal employee and young daughter at 349 W. 28th street. She is the youngest of three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William (Tojo) Milton, 1068 Udell street.

Mrs. Bell is the first colored woman to serve in the civilian clerical division of the police department.

Charles Monger Named Salesman For Best Beers

JUDGE WARING DECLINES TO REHEAR S. C. SCHOOL CASE

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (ANP)—Judge J. Waties Waring has withdrawn himself from the famed Clarendon County school case which demands the end of racial segregation in public schools.

The case which already has reached the U. S. Supreme Court was sent back to the local three-man district court in South Carolina for a rehearing.

Judge Waring originally delivered the minority opinion in the case. In this opinion he declared that Jim Crow per se was an evil which automatically made separate schools unequal. The majority opinion agreed that the schools in Clarendon County of South Carolina were not equal, but ordered county school authorities to report progress in six months.

The case, which is being handled by NAACP, was then appealed to the Supreme court. Last month, the high court which consistently has refused to make a decision on the question of segregation, itself, ordered a rehearing to the lower court.

Rehearing Date March 3
The original three-man court consisted of Judge Waring, Judge George Timmerman of South Carolina, and Judge John J. Parker, Charlotte, senior justice of the U. S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Parker presided.

The three judge court will rehear the case March 3 with Judges Parker and Timmerman on the bench and a third jurist yet to be named.

In the meantime, Judge Waring has officially retired from the bench. Although a native of South Carolina and a resident of that state all his life, Judge Waring gave out the decision which opened the state's "white primaries" to Negro voters.

In the new court action, the three-judge court will rule on the first Clarendon County report on progress in the equalization of colored and white schools.

councilman J. Wesley Brown supporting the fight of groups opposing the scheduled erection of public housing projects on two sites, LeGrande and Dawson and Southeastern and Keystone.

The federal government will force the authority to sue the city if the city council withdraws its agreements. Wade said the authority has been informed.

The city cannot back out of a contract which the city council has made without subjecting itself to heavy damages. Wade noted. The authority insisted it had already obtained all the approval it needed from the city council and had gone ahead with plans to build the 1,500 units of public housing. Bids on the construction were advertised to be opened on March 3.

Opponents of the public housing project in the meantime, have filed a suit in Superior Court No. 1 for an injunction to stop the authority from proceeding with the construction.

Watkins Gets Endorsement For Governor

A resolution signed by 8 of the 11 Democratic county chairmen of the Seventh District endorsing Lieut. Governor John A. Watkins, Bloomfield newspaper publisher for the Democratic nomination for governor was announced here last week.

The announcement was made at a meeting on Friday of the Democratic State Committee held in the Claypool hotel. The resolution praising Watkins and urging him to become a candidate was read by Seventh District chairman Curtis Kimmell Vincennes. The resolution called for the forming of state-wide organizations of Watkins-for-Governor Clubs.

Mr. Watkins, a resident of the Seventh District, issued a prepared statement saying, "I am highly complimented by the action of the Seventh District Democratic Central Committee in endorsing me as a candidate for Governor of the state of Indiana. Their confidence in my ability to serve in this high office will benefit me greatly in making a decision in this matter."

The resolution was not signed by Democratic officials of Morgan, Johnson and Sullivan counties; but it gave Mr. Watkins the initial edge over potential candidates from the Seventh District. Possible candidates from the district include U. S. District Attorney Matthew E. Welsh and ex-Bloomington Mayor Tom Lemon.

5 GOP Officials Of County Get Reelection OK

Five Republican county officials now serving short terms are expected shortly to announce their candidacies for renomination in the primaries of May 6.

The group includes Prosecutor Frank H. Fairchild; Louis O. Rainier, Marion County treasurer; Jesse A. Hutsell, county commissioner; Dr. B. H. Storms, Marion County coroner, and Paul R. Brown, county surveyor. The group is reported to have the support of officials in the Court House and the City Hall. All the incumbent candidates supported Mayor Clark in the primary and general election.

Prosecutor Fairchild was the Republican nominee in 1948 but was defeated. Running without organization support in 1950 he won the nomination and was elected. Rainier, a northside business man, was nominated and elected in 1950 in his first bid for public office.

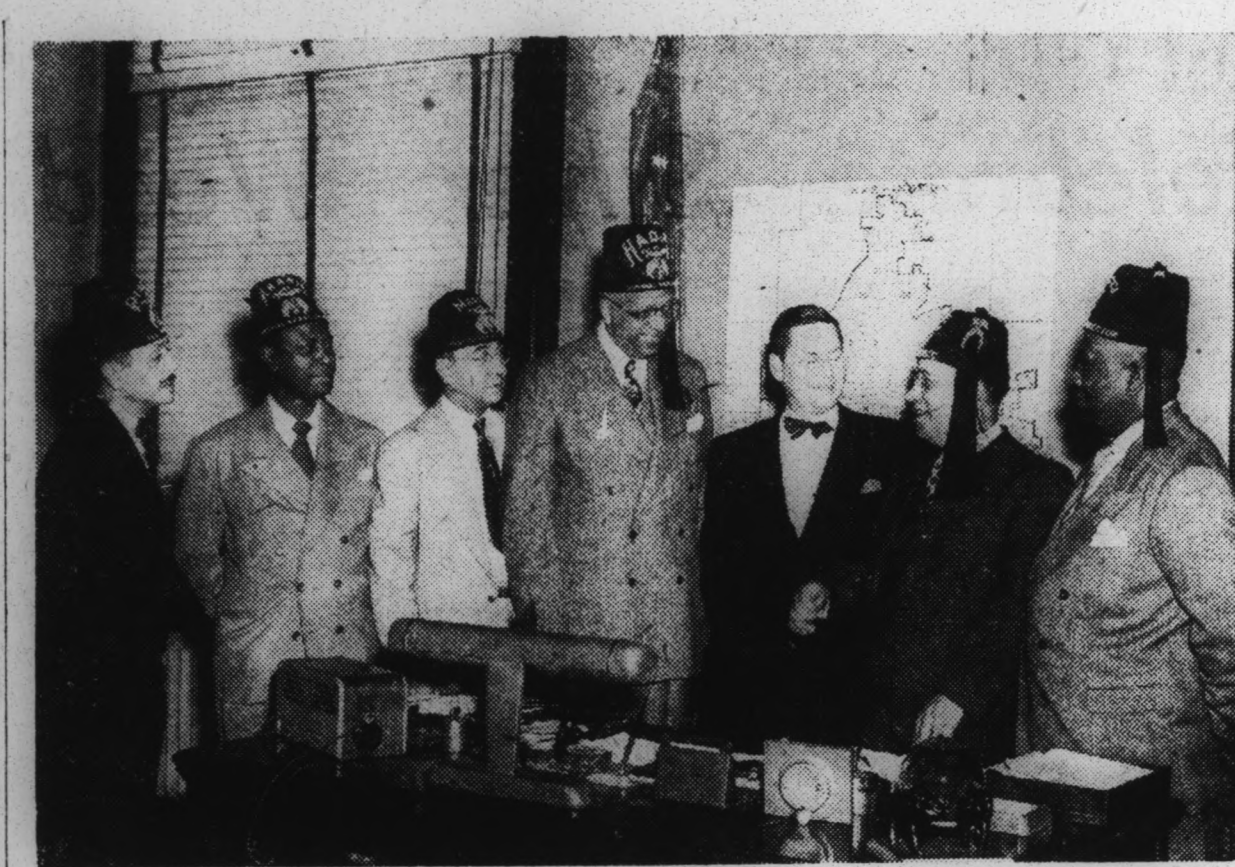

Dr. Storms served four two-year terms as coroner before being defeated for reelection in 1948. He was returned to office in 1950.

Brown, a civil engineer, served as surveyor in 1928 to 1930 and from 1940 to 1948. He was reelected in his present term two years ago.

Local CIO Unions Hear Report on Foreign Relief

Sponsored by the Indianapolis CIO Industrial Union Councils J. Carlton Yedell, New York spoke on the CIO Foreign Relief program at the World War Memorial auditorium Thursday evening, Feb. 15.

Mr. Yedell is a member of the staff of the National CIO Community Services Committee. He is assigned specially to handle the CIO participation in the CARE program.

Mr. Yedell urged CIO members to drop any isolationist attitudes and complacency with regards to the plight of workers beyond the shores of America. Workers abroad need the support and encouragement of United States organized labor in their struggle for democracy, security and peace. Mr. Yedell pointed out that while organized labor strives to raise the level of our own democracy, it cannot cease in its efforts to win the hearts, souls and minds of people in all parts of the world to encourage the spread of democracy universally.

Mr. Yedell's final advice was that empty words, slogans and resolutions alone cannot stem the Communist tide. We in America need to deliver the goods with a tangible program. A hungry people get no nourishment out of pious statements. Bread comes before politics.

Paintful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"—may often be suffering quite unnecessarily! Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested! Test Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-killing drugs! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period! Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron! If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"—you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quieting effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which often cause menstrual pain

Saturday was a big day for Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. McCrae—they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a formal dinner, reception, and dance.

Dinner was served in the dining room with 37 people present, including, in addition to the members of the receiving line and the hostesses and their husbands (named later), Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Batties.

The tables, arranged in "E" form, were centered with bowls of white roses and carnations, and a centerpiece of a silver wreath with the figure "25" graced the main table. At each place was a corsage of white carnations for the women or a white carnation boutonniere for the men. Forming the candlelight for the turkey dinner were white candles in crystal sticks on each table. A center of attraction was the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white satin bells encircled with silver beads.

Forming the receiving line for the reception which followed in the big hall, in addition to the McCraes, were her brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Cooper, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Luther, Okla., two aunts, Mrs. Willa Mae Jordan, Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Madge Levells, and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel F. Artis, who introduced guests.

At the beginning of the reception the couple renewed their marriage vows, with Rev. W. H. Wallace, pastor of Simpson Methodist church, which they attend, officiating.

Assisting as hostesses at the reception and dance were Mesdames Frank Chowning, Andrew Creighton, Thomas Crubbs, George McButts, Jack Higginson, Horace Hicks, Leroy Butcher, William Perkins, Lionel F. Artis, Guy L. Grant, Leroy Hambo, O. L. Bryant, Joseph Williams, and Frank Hailstock. Mrs. Butcher was chairman of the hostesses.

The silver anniversary motif was extended with baskets of white carnations and roses with the silver "25" embedded in the flowers and standards of palms about the room, and the junior hostesses, the Misses Lois Jeanne Baird and Margaret Ann Barbee, pinned silver paper wreaths with the "25" on them on guests as they arrived. Reception music was furnished by Mrs. Julia Reed White, soprano; William Minor, tenor, and Miss Clara Reese Kirk, pianist, while dance music was furnished by the Stuff Watson trio.

Another very pretty affair was the dinner given by Mrs. Margaret R. Shackelford on Sunday afternoon honoring Mrs. Laura Brooks, president of the Bethel AME Church deaconess board, on her birthday. Members of the board and Rev. and Mrs. Jonathan A. Dames were guests.

The table was beautiful with a Mexican drawn cloth which Mrs. Shackelford purchased in Mexico about five years ago. The floral centerpiece, a gift of Mrs. Rena Nicholas, was artistically arranged by Mrs. Matilda Hayes.

Also assisting the hostess were Mesdames Hazel Manlove, Mattie Adams, and Maudie Adams. Mrs. Robertine Collins entertained six little Misses at noon luncheon Saturday in celebration of the twelfth birthday of her daughter, Betty Ann. They included Aletha Weir, Brenda Bowles, Ann Lane, Patricia Myers, Virginia Blackman, and Shirley Butler. Games were played, with Patricia and Virginia winning prizes.

The Wyleway Bridge club met with Oscar Morris Saturday night, prizes being won by Dr. Paul A. Patties, Ernest Kirk, and George Dixon. Amos A. Thompson was guest. The club, by the way, has issued invitations to its traditional Leap Year formal dance, to be held Friday night, February 29, in the Walker Casino.

Speaking of things coming up, the Ten Penny club will present its annual card party Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of L. S. Ayres and Company. As each door prize will be offered plus the bonus for being on time (12:30). Mrs. Millerson Daniels, chairman, tells me tickets can be purchased from any member. They are, in case you didn't know, Mesdames Hope Phillips, president; Eunice VanHorn, vice-president; Bernice Scott, secretary; Willie

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

Worthwhile organizations are always welcomed in any community. They help to build up the residents. I am reminded that last spring a group of fine women, under the leadership of Mrs. Clo Woolridge from the YWCA organized the Brightwood Circle of the YWCA in the home of Mrs. John Baker.

The circle meets every second and fourth Monday nights in various homes. Purpose of the group is to make more people conscious of the YWCA, the church, and school program. The group sends cards to spread sunshine among the sick. Mrs. Ella Trice, 2265 North Oxford street, and Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, 263 North Parker avenue, have already entertained the circle this year.

Mrs. John Baker is making a fine chairman of the group. All interested persons are asked to call Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, IM. 7266, for places of meetings.

Also always welcome are beautiful flowers, whether they are sent to say "thank you" or to express love or sympathy, congratulations, or some other sentiment. Last Monday morning at 10, friends of Elijah Mitchell loaded the church with flowers as funeral services were held. Mr. Mitchell, who lived at 1161 North Pershing avenue, was the father-in-law of Dr. J. A. Anderson, former east-side physician.

Bishop A. W. Womack, former pastor of Phillips Temple CME Church, delivered an inspiring message at Trinity CME Church last Sunday, talking on "He Went a Little Farther and Fell on His Face." Rev. W. C. Flanagan is new pastor of the church.

Participating in the funeral services of William B. Phillips, 1427 Columbia avenue, who died at Billings Hospital, were Mesdames Mabel Washington, Julia Means and Frances Boglin, childhood associates. Dr. J. O. Clark, his former Sunday school teacher, gave the eulogy.

Glad to see the old Hoosier State is John Galtbreath, former owner of a dining parlor located at 11th street and Columbia avenue for many years. Mr. Galtbreath hails from New Mexico, and is visiting relatives Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, 2216 Hovey street.

Rev. A. Bernard, pastor of St. Mark Baptist Church, started the state rally off on Thursday night of last week in a big way for the captain. Mrs. Cordelia Watson, at New Bethel Baptist Church, Mrs. Watson was pulling for Mississippi. On Thursday night of this week Mrs. Jean Osborne was to be captain for Tennessee.

Mrs. Rose Edwards, president of the Pastor's Aid, which sponsored the state rally, will close the series with a home talent program Sunday afternoon at 3.

Chandler Houston, member of the Eastside Better Business League, has returned from De Kalb, Miss., where he attended the bedside of his mother, who was very ill.

Community Bible Class Has Meeting

Dr. J. O. Clark will be principal speaker for the father and son banquet at the Senate Avenue YMCA on Friday night, talking on "Parental Responsibility."

Mrs. Barbara Harris, member of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, has moved in at 27th street and Northwestern avenue, where she expects to continue as a furrier, doing all types of cleaning work.

Members of the East End Culture club report a grand time in the home of Mrs. Bertha Randolph, 1522 North Arsenal avenue Wednesday. Mrs. Kathryn Jackson is president.

Mrs. Kathryn Blakemore, president of the PTA of School No. 26, tells me they enjoyed a lovely Founders Day meeting on Wednesday of last week, when a beautiful purse was presented to Mrs. Mamie Young, retired nurse at the school, and a lifetime membership was presented to Mrs. Willa Taylor. Mrs. Frances N. Stewart was in charge of a playlet, and the school orchestra, directed by James Compton, furnished music.

SORORITY SPEAKER: Miss Rose Ella King, teacher in the public school system of Gary who has recently returned to this country after spending a year as exchange teacher in England, will be guest speaker Sunday morning at 11 when Alpha Mu Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority celebrates Founders' Day in Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Special music will be presented for the observance, to which the public is invited. Rev. R. T. Andrews is pastor of the church.

PARTY HONORS Young Contralto To Sing Recital

The junior missionary of Mt. Pilgrim Baptist Church will present Miss Bettyjean Potter, young contralto, in recital Sunday evening at 7 in the Riddick Auditorium, 1440 North Meridian street.

Upon graduation from Crispus Attucks High School she was given a scholarship by the Ethelbert Choral Society to further her musical career, and in June of last year was awarded a $100 scholarship from School No. 19.

I COULD HARDLY BELIEVE IT when the Carnation Milk folks said I could offer their new recipe booklet absolutely free. You see, this is no ordinary booklet. It was written by Freda DeKnight, famous home economist, magazine writer, and author of "A Date with a Dish". It's called "Favorite Carnation Recipes". And since Miss DeKnight wrote it, you know it's good. Its 24 colorfully illustrated pages are chock-full of simply grand recipes and cooking tips—from wonderful ways to make sauces to luxurious, yet economical, desserts. HAPPENINGS AT JONES TABERNACLE

THE SPIRIT OF LENT

Once again time has brought us to the Lenten Season. My prayer is that you will grasp fully its meaning and apply its full value to your personal Christian life.

There are certain seasons of the year when special emphasis is given certain phases of the Christian religion. This is the season for Lent. Holy Week and Easter. Lent will mean everything to you if you sincerely seek spiritual growth. It has no meaning for a lukewarm Christian. For best results read your daily Meditations and your Bible. Have your daily prayer and make daily contributions to your envelope.

AME Church in La. Threatens To Leave Fold

By JAMES B. LAFOURCHE

NEW ORLEANS (ANP)—A 96-year old church with a 99-year charter and affiliation with the African Methodist Episcopal Church, threatened to withdraw from its fold here last week, unless Bishop Monroe H. Davis returns its pastor.

The church is St. Peter's AME, and the pastor is the Rev. G. R. Haughton, transferred from the church by the bishop at the Jan. 20 conference held at Baton Rouge, La.

The church members claim their transferred pastor is not only "a fine Christian gentleman, but one who has increased the membership and liquidated all expenses since being appointed there two years ago."

Plea Made To Bishop

A spokesman for the irate group stated that long before the conference was held, the congregation informed Bishop Davis that Rev. Haughton's return was unanimously requested.

Reasons offered for the pastor's return were his over-all ability to attract visitors from sister churches and his administrative qualities in not only liquidating outstanding debts, but maintaining a cash balance in the bank.

A registered letter directed to Bishop Davis, requesting an immediate reply has not been answered. The letter adds that if the bishop could appoint the Rev. T. H. Primm, pastor of Union Bethel AME church, now serving his 12th appointment, to St. Peter's the request to re-appoint the Rev. Haughton should have been considered.

Rev. Primm, during an interview, appeared to be looking hopefully toward the bishopric next May, and seemed secure in his entrenchment of 12 years at the helm of Union Bethel.

Rather than dunk a set-up himself he would pass OUT to his stellar teammate.

Anyone who thinks Gardner has the least bit of selfishness in his makeup should have seen that game. It was all the more touching because "Dill," owing to a technicality of IHSAA rules, is playing his last season, while Bryant has another year. And Gardner, while behind Hallie, was also within shooting distance of the record. Let it never be forgotten.

For sheer, murderous scoring ability, however, it was still another Tiger—Bailey Robertson—who took the prize. "Flap" lifted his soft one-handers and dribbled his game-busting drive-ins for 25 tallies. He hit 12 field goals, according to our book, on just 15 shots. We wouldn't have believed it if we hadn't seen it. If anyone wondered whom we were referring to a few weeks back as "the best shot in Indiana"—BAILEY'S OUR BOY.

"That's the boy who will carry them through," said a daily newsmen to this writer.

Blister Nets at .550
But the Crowmen as a whole were in superb form, hitting .550 from the field on our chart—it may have been a few points less, because, frankly, a lost court. What are you going to do when 17 Attacks players break into the game, including some from the reserves with the same numbers as the varsity boys?

What are you going to do when Gardner bounce-passes backward between his legs to Robertson, who promptly cans a shot? Or when he blind-passes time and again to teammates? Or when he jumps up and HANGS ON to the rim of the basket?

What are you going to say when he varsity returns to the game with 3:39 to go and proceeds to core 21 points in that three-and-half minutes?

Whoever heard of a team 47 points behind STALLING, as Dunkirk did, in an attempt to prevent their opponents from reaching 100?

Who ever heard of a team allowing their opponents to shoot under the basket and even ENCOURAGING them, as Attacks did—in order that the Speedcats might score and the Tigers get the ball out-of-bounds?

Dunkirk, incidentally, was not the worst team in the state. As evidence, the visiting boys hit 26 of 36 free throws—20 of them in the second half.

For the record, the Tigers ran their season total to 1,322 points—well above the city mark of 1,216 set by last year's Crowmen. Bryant's 43 points tied his own all-time single-game scoring record.

Principal Russell A. Lane said Attacks may play all its home games at the Fieldhouse next season. Good deal!

Mr. Wilson was a 33rd degree Mason, member of the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and the Order of St. Luke. The funeral rites and burial are scheduled for Saturday in Washington, D. C. Dignitaries of the fraternal order from more than 40 states and several foreign countries are scheduled to attend the funeral.

The group from Indianapolis attending the funeral rites will include Claude White, grand inspector for Indiana; H. W. Lorton, grand deputy for Indiana, and Mrs. Ada Abrams Jones, state president of Daughters Temples.

The line-up of contestants in the hearing presented an unusual and entirely new aspect, with racial distinctions commendably ignored.

Rufus C. Kuykendall represented the City of Indianapolis as its assistant city attorney in charge of Board of Safety legal matters. Jewell had selected as his attorney Edwin J. McClure, widely known member of the local bar.

the Keagys there.

As was her custom, whether the family was at home or away, she received her guests in their home, in this instance Welch, Miss Dixon and Blair, on last Sunday afternoon—although it is understood Welch, of whom she was very fond, had already visited her several times following her return.

Mrs. Webster had her living quarters over the garage which is a part of the house. Miss Dixon and Blair retired to another part of the house, they said, leaving Welch and his foster sister in the living room.

Sometime late Sunday afternoon — they told Prosecutor William Reller, Coroner H. D. Hill, and the deputy sheriffs and Hagerstown marshals in separate statements that are said to conflict — Welch came to the room they were in and asked for the keys to Blair's car to get something to drink. Told there was not enough gas in its tank, he was given the keys to the car driven by Miss Dixon, which was a blue Chrysler sedan belonging to her employer, Ralph Teetor.

When Welch failed to return, Blair and Miss Dixon went in search of their hostess. They found her, they said, as officials found her body later — fully clothed, a bullet hole over the right eye, and slumped back on a studio couch.

Robbery Not Motive

Robbery was not a motive, officials decided, because her jewelry — three valuable diamond rings on her fingers and other valuable pieces among her belongings — were not touched.

Welch was nowhere to be found when town marshals arrived after a call from Mr. Teetor, who in turn had been notified by the thoroughly frightened Miss Dixon, his housemaid.

The expression on the face of the attractive widow indicated she was not in the grip of fear or anticipated horror at time of her death, which was instantaneous.

There was no disarray of the room's furnishings to indicate a struggle and only three empty beer bottles found — clear evidence, officials said, that there had been no drinking party.

However, it is hinted that Welch's motive might have been a jealous one, but what prompted him to fire the .22-caliber rifle with which the woman was shot puzzled investigators.

Welch was taken into Mrs. Webster's family by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ladd, when he was only 14. He lived with them at Losantville, Ind., until he joined the Army, serving three years overseas during World War II.

Funeral Rites Held

A sorrowing throng of friends joined relatives in mourning Mrs. Webster's death at services in Bethel AME Church here, with the pastor, Rev. L. S. Parks, who also officiated at her late husband's funeral last August 14, also held at Bethel of which both were members.

Mrs. Webster was born in Cadiz, Ind., in 1916, and went to school in Losantville after her father, a prosperous farmer, moved there.

She was married to George Norrell Webster, a chemist for the Perfect Circle company, in 1938, and had been living with the Keagys for the past 11 years.

Friends and relatives described her as popular with better class people of both races, always exhibiting a cheerful disposition and ever ready to help others. In social circles she reigned as a graceful, glamorous matron, a charming hostess and the life of any party she attended.

Many hundreds of persons viewed her body as it lay in state at the funeral home of W. Stirling Patterson.

Survivors include, beside the parents, a daughter, Eva Louise, 14; a sister, Mrs. Raymond Bragg, Fountain City, and a brother, John Ladd, Losantville.

Mrs. Webster was a member of Adah Chapter, No. 21, O.E.S., the Stitch-A-Bit Social club, and the Junior Lady Ushers of Bethel Church.

Burial was in Earlham Cemetery.

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

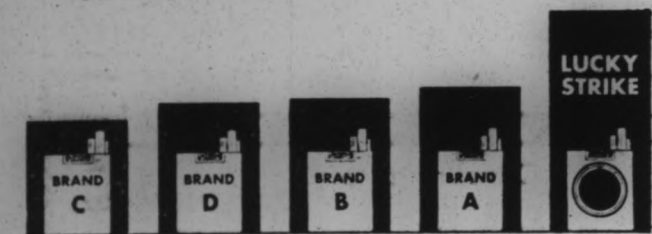

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette.

You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . and for two important reasons.

First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. There's no substitute for fine tobacco, and don't let anybody tell you different.

Second, Luckies are made to taste better. A month-after-month cigarette comparison, measuring those important factors of workmanship that affect the taste of cigarettes, proves Lucky Strike is the best-made of all five principal brands!

That's a fact—established in The Research Laboratory of The American Tobacco Company—and verified by leading independent laboratory consultants.

So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the better taste of truly fine tobacco in a great cigarette—Lucky Strike! Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Brotherhood

Must Be Lived!!

WHAT IS BROTHERHOOD?

Brotherhood is giving to others the rights and respect that we want for ourselves. This definition rests squarely on the basic principles of religion and is the practical expression of religion in democratic life.

Respect for all people is an essential part of our teachings from earliest childhood. As a result the concepts of equality and brotherhood are imbedded deeply into our Western civilization.

McCall to Seek New Trial in Florida Rape Case

BY WM. A. CHAMBERS TAKES RETAKES (NEWS OF PLACES AND PEOPLE)

BISHOP RICHARD C. RAINES, Indianapolis, of the Indiana area of the Methodist Church, speaking last week at DePauw University, according to the daily press, declared the United States has lost face in the Eastern world. Bishop Raines recently completed a 35,000-mile air trip around the world.

"On the outraged front of truth," it is charged that our interest in the far-flung areas of the East is centered around natural resources such as rubber, oil, tungsten, chromium, manganese, tin and lead. (It is a long strong that touches the lives of the butcher, baker and candlestick maker.) Bishop Raines observed, "Our reservoir of good will in the Middle East is pretty well drained dry." But more thought-provoking, he reported colonialism, based upon the idea of white supremacy, is dead.

Other world travelers have noted in a general sense as Bishop Raines says, "America is no longer a name which brings a smile of confidence to the people of the world; partly because we are so strong, partly because they think we are hysterical about Russia, and partly because of the uncertainty of our foreign policy."

We submit that the Greeks said there were two sides to every question (issue), exactly opposite to each other. Again, all things are produced by fate, and fate is a connected cause of existing things, or the reason according to which the world is regulated.

If the long-standing views of the Greeks in this instance are tenable, "the connected cause of existing things" in the Eastern world hereafter appears to be diverging from the "first standard of basic justice" upon which Bishop Raines concludes, as representing our way of life. Finally by faith men are saved, and if it is as Bishop Raines says "more right about America than any other nation in the world," the reclaiming of our "reservoir of good will" remains to be proved a practical adventure.

MRS. RICHARD HAZELWOOD, Wise County, Va., a coal miner's wife, in recent weeks had a seriously ill 7-month-old baby. She called a doctor on the phone. The story is that the doctor inquired if she would be able to pay him if he made the call. She could not promise.

Despairing of aid, she set out carrying her sick child and dragging another 2-year-old by her side to walk eight miles to a hospital at Norton, Va. Her sick baby died almost as she reached the hospital. The incident has spread pain, sorrow and anger far beyond the borders of the mining community of Wise County, Va.; but it has many parallels over our land. The people in Wise County, Va., born-handed sons of toil like millions of others—who mine coal, build railroads and highways or work in steel mills and elsewhere to make vibrant the sinews of our economic structure—lack adequate medical or health services.

They have a stake in federal health insurance. Finally, the nation has a stake in federal health insurance or a federal health aid program. "The health of the people is really the foundation upon which all their powers as a state depend."—Benjamin Disraeli.

DANZIEL PIERIES, Colombo, Ceylon, young editor of the Colombo Observer, upon arriving back in Ceylon, recently made a visit to the United States along with other of his fellow countrymen under the auspices of the U. S. State Department.

Editor Pieries comes from an area of the world where the Mongols from the North and Africans from the West mingled their blood strains as long ago as a hundred centuries. Following their visit to the United States, he and members of the party observed that Americans are doing much to undo their efforts to keep Asia from going Communist, and their weapon used is the color line as drawn between Negro people and whites.

Mr. Pieries said, "We as members of the colored peoples are compelled to ask ourselves in the American South this question: 'What would happen if the Americans, with their enormous technical advantages, were to take it into their heads to make this sectional white supremacy their principle of action?'"

MBIYU KOINAGE, Kenya Colony, Africa, the son of an African chief, educated at Columbia University in this country, Cambridge (England) and the University of London, is the founder and principal of the Kenya Teachers College, which has about a thousand pupils, and secretary of the African Educational Council which controls about 300 schools.

Mr. Koinage is also an executive member and trustee of the Kenya African Union; on a recent visit to London he told representatives of the press of the plight of the natives, segregated into grossly overcrowded areas called "native reserves."

"Since the turn of the century 16,700 square miles of territory have been taken away from the Africans and given to Europeans. This is called 'alienation' of land. And usually it has been the best agricultural land in a temperate climate."

Espousing education for the natives, economically, politically and socially, and a degree of self-government, Mr. Koinage and his able associate Achieng Okeko are pressing their case in England.

Mr. Koinage says, "Land in Africa is life. Progress and development begin with security of tenure in land. And so it is in my country, Kenya. Yet hundreds of thousands of Kenya natives find themselves landless." Mr. Koinage did not say that not so far away in the country of the late Jan Smuts, the Union of South Africa, the new leader Daniel F. Malan is busy with plans of imperialistic exploitation of the natives that exceed all reports of slavery emanating from the Soviet Union.

THOMAS O'MALLEY, Chicago, Regional Director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, reported recently findings in study made by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, on the employment of women workers in 100 trade union localities of the country.

Questionnaires distributed to 8,300 women workers of 100 selected locals of six international unions indicated that 80 per cent of the women answering the questionnaires take jobs for the same reason that men seek employment—to make a living.

Six out of every ten reporting said they not only supported themselves, but others depending upon them. One out of every seven reported herself as the sole support of her family, and while the majority of these families had only one other member, some of the union women were the only wage earners in families of four or more.

Further inquiries brought out the fact that more than half of all of every dollar of their wages these working women must spend to meet living expenses from day to day. Three out of four of those reporting said that daily living took 75 cents or more from each dollar they earned.

One out of every four reporting as not living with her family said she supported or helped to support at least one relative. Practically all of those living in family groups, whether married or single, put part of their earnings regularly into household expenses.

A detailed report of this study is soon to be published in bulletin form and it may be obtained after publication at the Regional Office of the Divisions, Room 1200 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, 34, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

Your friends, Edward Zebulon Brees and Ling Foo, meeting in the Antique Store over last week-end participated in a lengthy discussion of Abraham Lincoln (following his birth anniversary), the display of flags of the rebellious South (Confederacy) and the "deeds and action behind the words" of various men presently aspiring to the office of President of the United States.

Concerning the Honorable, Mr. Lincoln "Easy Breeze" said, "Lincoln was a very wise and charming man, but he was never as harsh as truth or as uncompromising as justice; and he must have reckoned that ideal or spiritual values, rather than material forces, eventually preside over the affairs of mortals."

Agreeing with "Easy Breeze," "Mr. Foolin" observed, "Yes, Mr. Lincoln was a wise man—but wisdom is a sorrowful spy, ev'ry only, wretched are the wise; and from ignorance mortals' comforts flow, and not from wisdom's light or glow."

Further they discussed the likely unhappy or wretched plight of Mr. Lincoln, if he were able to return to a place among us and see the symbol of the rebellion against the Union flying in the four winds over almost every state of the Union.

Wherein "Easy Breeze" asserted "The political ideology of the old South is being acclaimed symbolically every place the rebel banner waves, including the fascist doctrine of inferior and superior peoples and the nullification of the letter and spirit of the U. S. Constitution."

"Foolin" concluded, "In all ages mortals have lived who wished to turn the clock back. Some around us wish to turn the clock back 50 years. In the Southland they wish to turn the clock back a hundred years; but during the hair's-breadth of time assigned to these mortals, the way of evil shall perish and the way of truth will abide in high places and justice eventually shall be done."

Very truly yours,

Styles Army Integration In European Area a Farce

By CLAUDE A. BARNETT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Claude A. Barnett, director of the Associated Negro Press has just returned home after an abbreviated tour of Europe. Wherever he stopped, he visited or tried to visit the camps of American armed forces stationed in Europe. This article comes as a result of what he saw.

CHICAGO (ANP)—If what I saw in Europe is true throughout the continent, then integration of Negroes and whites in the American army is a farce.

The United States Army still has "all-Negro" units serving in Germany and in France. Some of these segregated outfits have a mixed staff of officers, but in no instance is a Negro officer in top command.

Integration as directed by President Truman and ordered by the Secretary of Defense apparently is still a long way off as far as European troops are concerned.

The closing of the all-Negro Kitzingen Training Center last year apparently was more of a front than a genuine step to end segregation in Europe.

Gen. Thomas Handy, a native of Texas, chief of the American forces in Germany. He apparently is following the same pattern set by his predecessors here.

Gen. "Ike" Mum on Issue
This situation is the reason Europeans told me why they take lightly statements by American on tolerance and equality for all citizens.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) troops here except in England. He never has made his position clear on matters of race, nor raised his voice on the issue of segregation.

A few miles from Gen. Eisenhower's supreme command office in Paris is located the 97th Construction Bn. Housed in tents in the biting weather of France in February, these troops must wade ankle-deep in mud to leave their reservation.

"Here's How it Works"
Hardships of this sort grow common to soldiers; but these troops also have to face a commander from Mississippi and a second in command from Florida.

Tough, grueling labor is the duty of this outfit. It includes doing pick and shovel work. Some of the men I met included Cpl. Robert L. Vaughan, Petersburg, Va., a graduate of Virginia State college with a master's degree from Columbia University, Oxford, O. Pvt. Moses F. Hammond, Fuller Road, Elyria, O., graduate of Miami University, Oxford, O. Pvt. Kenneth L. Jewell, New York, who attended City College of New York. . . . Pfc.

AIDE TO SUPREME COURT JUSTICE: A former U. S. Department of Labor investigator, Edward White, was recently sworn in as confidential aide to Justice Matthew Levy of the New York Supreme Court. Justice Levy is shown wearing in Mr. White as his wife, Mrs. Christine White looks on.

Mosby R. Turner, Richmond, Va., B. S. Virginia State college. . . . Cpl. Oliver C. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J., B. S. Morgan State college. . . . These men went about their edious duties without griping.

"The American Way"
Then in Munich there is a segregated trucking outfit and a special service club known as the Orlando club. Located not far from the famous museums taken over by Hitler is another service club, euphemistically called "The American Way." I looked around and asked whether or not Negro officers or men ever frequented it. Only now and then, the girl at the desk said.

In Frankfurt, there is an all-Negro 24th T. P. Bn., at Francois Kasern, a suburb, commanded by a white colonel with a Negro lieutenant colonel second in command. The night I was there white and Negro soldiers engaged in a free for all brawl. It began in one of the many dives in Frankfurt. As you might suspect, it was about frauds.

A taxi driver put it to me this way: "All these women want is money whether it comes from white or black boys. The women pick them against each other. The boys do not seem to understand that all the women want is money." Frankfurt, a Bright Spot
There was one bright spot in Frankfurt—the Basic Education unit in 7811 Station Company unit. A white lieutenant was in charge. White and colored soldiers rated him tops. His name was Lt. Berry. As men enter this school which teaches elementary school courses, he tells every man as he enters, no racial differences will be tolerated.

Negro and white GI's here eat, sleep, work and play together. Here I saw Pfc. Henry Mallory, Pittsburgh; Pvt. Herman Wright, Whiteville, N. C.; Pfc. James E. Wilson, also of Whiteville; Pfc. Peter R. Thomas, a soldier from South Carolina. The latter two were white.

Thomas said he wanted his name to appear in a colored paper with his Negro buddies, but the latter soldier said he did not mind but his folks in South Carolina "would have a fit if they saw my name in a colored paper."

I learned here that no officer had succeeded Col. Marcus Ray as liaison officer for colored troops because the high command had decided there no longer were any Negro problems.

As I see it, the high command has erred. The only Negro problem in the army in Germany is the basic one of segregation with all its ills.

THE LAST OF THE GROVELAND, FLA., FOUR: Walter Lee Irvin, age 24, the last defendant in the "Groveland, Fla., Rape Case Farce," is shown as he was led from the Marion County, Florida, jail by sheriffs. On trial, he was convicted the second time of rape and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Last of "Groveland 4" May Face Third Trial

OCALA, Fla. (ANP)—Walter Lee Irvin, last of the "Groveland Four" with a chance for freedom, was found guilty, Thursday, Feb. 14, of the rape of a white woman on July 6, 1949.

An all white male jury took only an hour and 23 minutes to find Irvin guilty. Judge Truman J. Futch sentenced him to death. Thurgood Marshall, attorney for Irvin and chief counsel of the NAACP, said he will file a motion for a new trial.

The action of this court marks another failure in 2½ years of action to get freedom and possibly a "fair trial" for members of the "Groveland Four."

The case dates back to the night of July 16, 1949 when a young white farm wife, Mrs. Norma Padgett, 19, claimed that four Negroes attacked her and assaulted her on a lonely road.

2 Youths In Case Killed
Besides Irvin, others of the original "Groveland Four" were Ernest Thomas, Charles Greenlee, and Samuel Shepherd. Thomas and Shepherd are dead, and Greenlee is serving a life sentence in prison for the rape.

Thomas was shot down shortly after the rape by a posse. He was a victim in a series of incidents during which whites stormed the Negro community in Groveland, looking and burning down homes and terrorizing the people.

Shepherd was shot down Nov. 6, 1951, by Sheriff Willis V. McCall of Marion County as he was transporting him and Irvin from the state prison at Raiford to Tavares for a second trial as ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court. McCall also shot Irvin while both men were handcuffed, but Irvin lived through the ordeal.

The first trial for Irvin also had Shepherd and Greenlee as defendants. An all-white jury quickly found all three guilty, sentencing Irvin and Shepherd to death and Greenlee, because he was only 16, to life.

First Conviction Reversed

Following this September, 1949 trial, the NAACP appealed the case to the U. S. Supreme Court. The high court ordered a new trial on the grounds that the case was held in an atmosphere of hate and fear in which it would be almost impossible for a Negro to have a fair trial. Only Irvin and Shepherd filed appeals, as Greenlee accepted the first sentence.

Finally, the second trial was scheduled to come up in November, 1951, when the fatal shooting of Shepherd aroused the whole nation. Sheriff McCall claimed that he shot Irvin and Shepherd in self-defense as they tried to overpower him on a lonely road as he stopped to fix a tire in his automobile.

Florida investigators ruled that the sheriff shot in self-defense. Finally, the second trial opened on Feb. 12 as an all white jury was selected from 100 veniremen, seven of whom were colored.

Except for the lack of violence surrounding the trial, the second trial was a repetition of the first. Mrs. Padgett and her husband, who the court they were attacked by four Negroes after their automobile had stalled on the road. She identified Irvin as one of the four.

Evidence Faked, FBI Charged
Deputy Sheriff James Yates, whom Irvin said helped the sheriff in the Nov. 6 shooting in which Shepherd was killed, also testified in behalf of the state.

For the defendant, the trial was a series of rebuffs. First, Judge Futch refused a plea for the change of venue which would move the case to another court. Testimony from what would have been a key witness also was denied the defendant.

For the defense, Herman D. Bennett, a former FBI agent, testified that a set of shoes used as evidence against Irvin was faked. Irvin did not testify in his own behalf.

In summary, Marshall said the state did not prove Irvin guilty beyond a doubt, nor did it even prove that Mrs. Padgett was raped. The date for the electrocution of Irvin was not set.

one of the weak links in America's effort to build a defense against Russia.

Since my trip covered only a limited area, I have sent letters asking about the situation to both Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. Handy. This letter asks them about the official army policy in Europe, and how it affects Negro troops.

I left Europe before they could reply to me there. If they intend to answer, they should do so during this week. When they report, then I expect to do the same for the American Negro public.

Mrs. Goldie Madry, former teacher in the Kokomo public school system, was speaker of the evening, using as her topic "The Negro's contribution to Civilization and the Realization of His Dreams."

She traced Negro history in this country, mentioning that the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History was organized September 9, 1915 by Carter G. Woodson to collect and publish history and to promote the study of Negro life as well as to bring about harmony among various races through interpretation.

The talk also brought the spotlight of recognition to George Washington Carver, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Joe Louis, Jackie Robinson, Marian Anderson, and Ethel Waters.

The invocation for the program was given by Rev. Roscoe Blake, more, and Mrs. Wilfred Trotter, president of the Howard County Federation of Missions, gave the welcome. Edward Ray served as master of ceremonies.

Closing remarks were made by Dr. John J. Simmons, president of the NAACP branch. Musical selections were presented by the chorus of Mt. Pisgah Baptist Church and by the Harmony Queens of Second Baptist Church.

LET'S BE WORTHY OF ATTUCKS TIGERS

Reports of rowdiness following Attucks basketball games call forth two sets of opinions from us. In the first place, we are eternally determined that race prejudice against Attucks shall not make itself felt, no matter what disguise it assumes. In this connection we maintain that criticism should never be directed at one school alone (or the followers of that school's team, which is somewhat different) — if the students or fans of other schools are also guilty. We know for a fact that students of at least one other school are guilty of vandalism, and we suspect that the condition is widespread. Therefore we believe that an appeal should be made generally to hardwood fans of the city, rather than singling out Crispus Attucks.

The reappearance of a discredited rumor that "Attucks might be suspended from the IHSAA" is, to our way of thinking, proof that prejudice against the Tigers still exists. We do not recall an instance of a high school being suspended from the IHSAA because of the conduct of fans — and there are several outbreaks of rowdiness and violence throughout the state each year. While some embittered individuals might like to get the high-scoring Tigers out of the way, we are confident that the great majority of Hoosier fans would never stand for it.

On this side of the ledger, let us add that the complaints of lily-white trolley drivers do not interest us in the slightest. If Indianapolis Railways desires to make a positive contribution to the situation, let it assign Negro drivers to these runs and much of the trouble may disappear.

All of this is not to say, however, that we condone or excuse for one minute the rowdy tactics of some students and followers of the Attucks team. These persons should be brought to understand that they are a disgrace to one of the finest squads that ever set foot on a basketball floor. They are a pain in the neck to all true sports fans who attend the games.

The full weight of the law should descend on such malefactors, and the judge should throw the book at them. Furthermore, the students themselves should take the lead in curbing these roughnecks and showing them the error of their ways. Hallie Bryant can't do anything about it. He is in the gym breaking the all-time city scoring record, and these nitwits are outside giving ammunition to the white supremacists!

CONFEDERATE FLAG FOR MEMORIAL DAY?

The announced coming of the 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division to Camp Atterbury in April for training, poses some problems in human relations that may well be considered in advance.

Certainly all right-thinking citizens of Indianapolis will do their best to make the Dixie Division's stay here a pleasant one. These are men of the United States Army, and they are entitled to all the consideration and respect given to other GI's.

At the same time, the Southern soldiers ought to be prepared for the fact that at Camp Atterbury, they will no longer be in Dixie. Their commander, Maj. Gen. Alexander G. Patton, was quoted as saying that Columbia, S. C., is "the best soldiers' town I've seen." But while Indianapolis is sometimes jokingly referred to as "a Northern city with a Southern exposure," our way of life is not and never will be that of South Carolina.

It is particularly unfortunate, we believe, that the Confederate flag and Confederate-style uniforms figure prominently in the famed band of the Dixie Division. This newspaper has often stated its firm conviction that no private citizen or member of the Armed Forces should pay homage to a banner that stood for armed rebellion against the United States Government, and that now stands for opposition to the U. S. Constitution.

Thus the proposal that the band parade at the 500-mile Race would appear to be out of the question, unless the insignia is changed. Many people believe that we already dishonor Indiana's Civil War patriots too much by holding the race on Memorial Day. Surely we cannot add to the infamy by allowing Confederate flags to be paraded!

"FLORIDA NEEDS A FEW HANGINGS—?"

On the eve of the trial of Walter Lee Irvin at Ocala, Fla., the Florida Ku Klux Klan staged a demonstration on a highway about one mile east of Orlando.

On the occasion of the Klan demonstration, the grand dragon of the Florida Klan, Bill Hendricks of Tallahassee, told the assembled crowd: "Unless the law enforcement officers adopt a better line of action to create 100 percent segregation, Florida will need a few hangings."

Police escorted the Klansmen through the streets of Orlando and to the scene of the meeting, according to reports acting in a spirit of genuine camaraderie. Not so far away in the spirit of such atmosphere Walter Lee Irvin was tried for rape. He was the last defendant in the "infamous Groveland Fla., rape farce."

The whole world knows the story of this travesty on humanitarianism, or the diabolical departure from any semblance of justice in the legal procedure involving the "Groveland Four." Therefore it was not strange to find the U. S. Supreme Court reversing the conviction of Irvin and Samuel Shepherd, who was killed by a Lake County sheriff on a trumped up pretext that he was "trying to escape."

Irvin escaped death in the assassination plot, but last week he was tried again and sentenced to die in the electric chair for a rape which never took place. Therefore the spirit of "Judge Lynch" will be appeased. And otherwise traditions of the Southland are sustained, wherein the "law of the jungle" takes precedence over the U. S. Constitution and tenets of our civilization's Christian culture.

UNMASKING THE KU KLUX KLAN

Following reports of the revival of the Ku Klux Klan in Virginia, Governor John Battle recently observed that the Virginia legislature "might well consider passing legislation" to restrict the activities of the Klan.

Queried about the revival of the hooded order, Governor Battle was reported as saying, "My reaction is not very happy." He did not know of any Virginia laws prohibiting the wearing of masks in public, but if the Klan as presently constituted is coming to Virginia the Governor thinks the passing of such legislation might well be considered.

It was noted that Governor Battle likely contemplated such anti-Klan legislation as has been passed in other states. Legislation prohibiting the wearing of masks will not restrict the activities of the Klan. But if the hooded order is duly exposed to the light, fair public opinion in almost all areas of the land will repel it in spirit and action.

Governor Battle, as a politician of the South, heretofore has conformed generally to the trend of events fitting the role of a Southern politician. But in this instance he appears to assume after a manner a role of repressing bigotry and

THE CHURCH BOSS

If two hired men working in a field or anywhere are doing the same job, getting the same pay and neither being placed above the other, one naturally will yield deference to the wishes of the other, who by common consent becomes the boss. In a herd of cattle every pair of horns must measure strength for supremacy. Every flock has its bell sheep, each flight of birds its leader. Often such assumed leadership is far from being justified, causing harm, confusion and tragedy.

It is natural for one who puts money, time and energy into a church to wish to have some say about how affairs are conducted. But it is another matter when he concludes that he should dictate all activities. Who has not seen the church boss emerge by degrees to a place where he feels he must be consulted before anything can be done?

Sometimes the position of tyrant of a dangerous type is held by a man and often by a woman. It may be the pastor. Even the sexton may feel called upon to dominate the preacher, the official boards and the congregation. Unbelievable as it may seem, the church boss determining the general policy of the church and telling the preacher what to do and what not to do sometimes is not even a member of the church.

"One Who Owns Church" A young woman entering a business establishment asked, "Is Mr. Blank in?" "Which one do you wish to see?" "The one who owns the church," she answered. There was a laugh at the expense of the member of the firm, despite his being an active and capable church worker.

The incident has a serious as well as a humorous meaning. It indicates a tendency and a condition, each of which menaces church life. The position seems to be to foster not only one Pope on the Tiber, but as many Popes as there are churches in the nation. Just as those of us who are Protestants object to one big Pope claiming ideal faultlessness and the power to regulate our creeds and practices, so we should refuse to receive the self-appointed church boss whose pretensions all too often are unworthy of serious consideration.

With many people it is natural to try to invest themselves with authority and in too many cases to misuse whatever power they may be permitted to exercise. The people out there in the country go to bed at eight o'clock, a prominent man informed his pastor, "Is that so?" "Yes; and it is time to begin the service." "All right," replied the minister, who, entering the pulpit, announced the opening hymn.

"Foot on the Neck" The meddler wanted to go to bed at eight. So he was the people. "Mr. Stubbornness," said a neighbor, "I'm inclined to run things my way. He has been heard to boast, 'I got my foot on the neck of Rev. erend Meekness when he first came here and I intend to keep it there.'"

The leading official treated his pastor ungraciously whenever he felt that such treatment was required for his purposes. He wanted him moved because the preacher was against saloons, arguing that they demoralized families and were enemies to the church. The preacher worked for a local option election. It was held and the people voted saloons out.

The church boss was angry at being defeated, rightly blaming the pastor for forcing the issue on the people. The boss was not concerned about the interests of the people or the true cause of religion. He was bent on his way, right or wrong.

HOW TO GET RID OF THE CHURCH BOSS is a knotty problem. I doubt that it is possible to eliminate him entirely, so long as human nature and the church remain as they are now. Mr. Self Will is not likely to be very troublesome in an organization conducted on genuine Christian, democratic principles — especially if most of the members themselves are true Christians.

HITS LAX LAW IN 'NEGRO KILLINGS'

To the Editor
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

There have been many weird and conflicting stories concerning a recent sensational slaying, and it appears that there is something peculiar about the course this matter has taken. The slayer was charged with manslaughter, although many persons thought he should have faced a more serious charge. The judge sitting as a committing magistrate could not change intolerance. Following Virginia other Southern states may eventually take action to preserve our country from an ever-menacing evil within, diabolical as any threatening from without, unless the Ku Klux Klan comes to the low road of oblivion.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

SLAVERY IS STILL WITH US

The observant American Negro and the intellectually honest white man are aware that not only is the Civil War still in progress, but Negro slavery is as much alive as it was in the days before what is now called the "War Between the States."

Chattel slavery is gone but in its place are all the techniques and devices which separated the master class from its human property in the days of glamo rized by the American fascist film, "Gone With The Wind"

To begin with, the existence of the segregated neighborhood is a direct carry-over from the days of chattel slavery, except that in the days of physical slavery it was not necessary to resort to laws or gentlemen's agreements to restrict the residential areas of the slaves.

The plantation before 1865 took the form of a modern ghetto. The slaves occupied shanties a few hundred yards from the "big house" of the master. Separate living was automatic.

Modern Slave Quarters The modern slave quarters are the slums and ghettos where Negroes are forced to live in all the cities of America, including those in the North where chattel slavery was never known.

Another evidence that slavery is still with us is that a large number of Negroes have steadily fled from the rigors of Southern white supremacy to supposed better conditions in the North in much the same way as runaway slaves escaped in the time of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The only thing missing is the Underground Railroad, with friendly whites hoping to bring the runaways to the sanctuary of the North. And every time a Negro is extradited to the South from one of the Northern states it is reminiscent of the return of escaped slaves a hundred years ago.

Another reminder of the more obvious type of slavery is segregated education. In some slaveholding states, before 1865 it was permissible to teach the rudiments of the three R's to slaves, while other states like Alabama made it a crime to teach Negroes to read or write. The words have changed somewhat but the music is the same. Today throughout the South and in many places in the North, Negroes are forced to go to inferior schools which equip them for little besides working as unskilled laborers or preaching to a practically unlettered congregation.

Amos and Andy

The entertainment world continues to present the Negro as it did over a century ago. He is presented as one of the familiar stereotypes which have led to brand him as an inferior — a child. The advent of a new medium of entertainment like television does not disturb the pattern. The major regular presentation of the Negro on the TV screen to date has been in the Amos and Andy show, which teaches the subtle lesson that the Negro is too naive and childlike to cope with the civilization of the 20th Century white man. Police brutality directed against Negroes all over America reminds one of the overseers and slave drivers of a day that has supposedly passed; and the lack of color blindness of the courts shows the judges to be spiritual descendants of Justice Roger B. Taney, who a century ago in the Dred Scott Case said: "A Negro has no rights which a white man is bound to respect."

Labor Divided

The discriminations practiced against Negroes in employment go back to the days when Negro slave labor was pitted against white labor to the advantage of the ruling class of whites. Discrimination now prevents the two laboring groups from forming a solid phalanx against white industrial leaders, at the expense of both the Negro and the white.

The treatment of the Negro by the daily press helps to keep alive the existence of a caste arrangement begun in the period of chattel slavery. The use of words like "riot" to describe a mild case of gate-crashing as was done recently by the Pullman newspaper, is done deliberately to show that Negroes are not ready to be treated like other human beings.

With all of these evidences of the continued existence of Negro slavery in the United States, it is tragically laughable to think that some of the leaders in maintaining this state of affairs have been mounting to their hind feet during the past week and speaking of "brotherhood."

And it is understandable that Negroes pay less and less attention to these annual outpourings of hypocritical words.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By DEAN GORDON B. HANCOCK For ANP

CROOKEDNESS IN AMERICAN SPORTS

At the present time the country is in a dither about sports scandals of one kind or another. There is more or less excitement, and higher-ups are out in front with all kinds of remedies for the specious situation in which we find ourselves, since scandal after scandal has been aired and the end is not yet.

Since Julius Kelloge, a Negro, a year ago alerted police officials of New York City, the sports scandal fur has been flying. More than half a hundred athletes have been taken in the legal net spread to check sports scandals. The ramifications have been great, extending from the ancient College of William and Mary to mighty West Point, where the wasp of scandal has stung with deadly precision.

College authorities are raising holy hands of horror at the exposures; but these same authorities gloated when their respective teams were thrilling the world with their athletic prowess.

What has happened might well have been expected. Ours is a land that worships the dollar first and God next—or near next. Race prejudice and the dollar are the gods of this nation, and God must play second fiddle to these if indeed He plays at all.

No De-Emphasis It is true the presidents of the colleges met in solemn caused usually by the pressure of ill-fitting shoes and tight socks, another cause is faulty foot balance, which throws weight and stress on the great toe.

Infection arises not so much from abnormal growth of the nail into the soft tissue of the toe, as from the superfluous growth of the soft tissue onto the edge of the nail.

Improper cutting of the toenail, which leaves a spur stabbing into the soft tissue, is a likely cause of this trouble. Toenails should be trimmed straight across with the edges extending above the soft parts. Cutting the toenail so that the end is rounded causes spurs to press into the soft parts, irritating them and making them subject to infection.

The large toe is the most important of the pedal digits, furnishing more than half of the total foot power in propelling the body forward. To prevent ingrown nails, the shoes must be long enough and wide enough. A shoe that really fits seems to belong to the foot. A shoe should not interfere with the free use of the foot according to the mechanical principles with which it functions.

"On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined," wrote the poet conclave making "heavy pronouncements," but the truth remains there will be no emphasis of college sports. America is a country where people want what they want when they want it, and as much as they want.

The pronouncements of academic moguls will not change the picture. There is money in successful college athletics, and by "successful" we mean financially successful. This nation wants major sports and is willing and able to pay for them.

It is the guess of this writer that we are going to have what we want—one way or another. It is going to take more than sanity codes and academic pronouncements to rid this country of its great college football teams with their post-season bowls of one sort or another. We are unfortunately caught in the vortex of an age of excitement. Athletic events afford the requisite excitement, and as such play an important role in a nation's diversional development and program.

This writer has often sat and watched college sports and wondered just what would be done without them. The recreational nature of these sports gives the college campus a much-needed respite from the strenuous and humdrum duties that daily demand our energies.

Abuses Need Correcting More than once this writer has decided that the college athlete of superb abilities deserves something for the contribution which he makes to college life. What the moguls are trying to say is that there are certain abuses that need correcting. There is no debate on this point, but whether college sports should be killed off in order to correct certain evils is a moot question.

Believe it or not, college sports are here to stay and as long as the public demands good teams they will be provided — one way or another. Sports will have to become much more scandalous to turn the moral stomach of the American public. America must have excitement. College sports like professional sports afford such, and there is no remedy in sight for their successful elimination.

It is not the way of Americans to go in one direction while the dollars go in another. There is big money in successful sports. As long as the public pays, the public will be served—one way or another. We have come upon a culture cycle like unto that which enveloped the Roman Empire in its heyday.

Like Ancient Rome It is hardly believable that 2,000 years ago the Roman Coliseum with a seating capacity of 80,000 was the center of Roman life next to the Forum. Large crowds bent on excitement were not unlike the crowds that go about our country seeking an outlet for their exuberant energies.

America demands big-time sports and will have them with or without scandals.

Crookedness in sports is not nearly so dangerous as crookedness in legal procedures that too often involve the fates and fortunes of Negroes in sports is merely a gnarl; crookedness in law enforcement is a cancer. Let's not strain too much at the gnarl.

What about the crookedness that has contravened the 13th and 14th Amendments to the Constitution innumerable times?

FIGHT ON RACIALISM URGED DURING BROTHERHOOD WEEK

NEW YORK (ANP)—The third annual Pledge Brotherhood Campaign, which launches Brotherhood Month to be observed during February, got off with a bang last week.

Sponsored jointly by the Congress of Racial Equality and the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the campaign calls on all Americans to boycott any place of business which does not admit all men on equal terms. During the last two years some 50,000 have signed the pledge.

Some 26 national leaders have called upon their fellow citizens by Byron. The brilliant Lord Byron did not dance—he had club feet.

ATTENTION READERS:

If you have a son or relative whom you know to be serving with the Armed Forces in Korea . . . please notify our office. Call the Navy Department, LI. 1543.

to pledge their "belief in brotherhood by at least one new act that challenges the pattern of segregation and discrimination." Among them were:

Willard S. Townsend, president of the United Transport Service Employees; Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor emeritus of Riverside church, New York; William J. Faulkner, dean of Fisk university; Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard university; Mrs. Lillian Smith, white southern author of novels with a Negro theme, and A. Philip Randolph, president of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

Persons who join the pledge campaign are encouraged to: "Bring a friend of another racial group to worship with you, or accompany him to his church; find out whether local public places discriminate; if they do, visit the manager and urge him to change his policy; find out the employment situation in such field as department stores, public transportation, etc."

Dillard Slated To Appear at Sports Show

Harrison Dillard, Olympic dash champion and holder of world titles in the hurdles, is tentatively scheduled to appear at the annual Sports Show to be held March 1-9 in the Manufacturer's Building at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, sponsors said this week.

Dillard, hero of the 1948 Olympics and now training for the 1952 U. S. team, will appear at the local show if his schedule permits.

Other big names slated for the show include Lee Wallard, winner of the 1951 500-Mile Race; Leo Couture, Canadian high-diving champion; Chuck French, general manager of the Indianapolis Indians, and other members of the organization; and Paul Worley of Muncie, holder of many boat-racing honors.

The sponsors are taking unusual pains to make this year's show a well-rounded one that will appeal to sports lovers of every category. Contests of skill will include log-rolling and canoe-tilting, archery and casting. A special cinder-block casting pool is being constructed, where trials for the state casting tournament will be held nightly and the finals on Sunday, March 9.

'Peace' Reported On Negro Games At Victory Field

"Peace" has been made between Abe Saperstein, Chicago entrepreneur who promotes Negro games at Victory Field, and local men who are forming the Indianapolis All-Stars baseball club, it was reported last week by a spokesman for the All-Stars.

The result of the agreement will be the playing of games between the All-Stars and other Negro teams here this summer when the Indianapolis Indians are out of town, it was said.

Over Harrison, 1635 Cornell, is forming the All-Stars, with Herman Watts as manager. The men are sparing no pains to put a first-rate professional club in the field, they declare.

A new league is being organized, the spokesman said, with teams from Indianapolis, Evansville, Dayton, Cincinnati, Louisville and East St. Louis, Ill.

The Negro American League franchise here is still held by the Indianapolis Clowns, owned by Syd Pollock of Tarrytown, N. Y., developed by Slammin' Sammy Sneed, will be on display for golfers. Entertainment will include Frank's Retrievers, Valentine's Pet Parade (trained birds who do amazing things), and Chief Young Deer's Indian Village.

The Indiana Conservation Department will have an elaborate exhibition for fishermen, nature lovers and youngsters. The show will be open nightly from 6 to 11 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays from 12 noon.

Crowwomen Wind Up at Winchester

Retiring Louis Thinks Ez Best

By LUIX VIRGIL OVERBEE
CHICAGO (ANP)—Joe Louis finally has quit the ring for good. At least that is what he has told Chicago sports writers. He said: "I have made up my mind that I'm going to quit fighting. I just don't have it any more. I hate to call it quits, but I know that it is the only decision to make."

It appears that Joe will resume his old position as director of boxing for the International Boxing Club which he helped found. On the side, he expects to do a few exhibitions here and there, but only with 16-ounce gloves. Joe thinks that Ezzard Charles is the best heavyweight in the ring today. He said nothing about Clarence Henry.

Charlton Hands Park 2nd Loss Of Season

PLAINFIELD—Underdog Charlton came from behind to hand Indianapolis Park its second defeat of the season here last Friday, 53-49.

Charlton trailed 49-44 with three minutes to go, but then scored 9 straight points. Robert Camos counted 16, John Murray 14 and John Watkins 14 for the victors. John DeVoe tallied 28 for the losers.

Frances Dawson Wins City Singles Crown

By NETTIE GEE

Rolling in her first city tourney, Miss Frances Dawson of King and King Funeral Home came through to top the singles in actual scoring in the women's city tourney which was concluded at Pritchett's alleys Sunday.

Miss Dawson, who averages 171 for King and King and 161 for the Shutterbugs in two leagues at the Fun Bowl, climaxed her tourney score with a 587. This enabled her to win the actual singles count from Miss Jo Berkopes, who had a 536.

Miss Dawson is a newcomer to the Fun Bowl. Last year was her first season at league bowling. She is the secretary to Judge Saul Rabb in Criminal Court, room 2. Richard Moore of Myer's Market rolled a perfect game during the Traveling League session between the Fun Bowl and St. Louis on Feb. 10. Nice going, kid!

Negroes Golf On City Course At Louisville

LOUISVILLE (ANP)—Two Negroes played golf on a city-owned course here recently, thus opening the non-discrimination policy ordered by a federal court.

Federal Judge Roy M. Shoberg ruled that the city of Louisville must permit Negroes to play on the city's five public golf courses, at least until equal facilities are provided them.

The ruling from a suit filed by Dr. P. O. Sweeney, dentist, originally in 1949.

The first to play were two newspapermen, Fletcher Martin and William P. Lanier. They actually reported to get a story and pictures of the first Negro players, but none showed up. So the news-men decided to shoot a few rounds themselves. They played on the 18-hole Shawnee course.

7 New Orleans Eagles Sold To Pittsburgh

ST. LOUIS (ANP)—Seven former members of the now defunct New Orleans Eagles have been sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates, Dr. B. B. Martin, owner of the Eagles, said last week.

The new Pirates are: Marvin Price, Chicago, first baseman; Eddie Brooks, Du Quoin, Ill., second baseman; LeRoy Hancock, Forrest City, Ark.; Larry Cunningham, Memphis; Lacey Guice, Wichita, Kan., all outfielders.

Also William Beverly, Houston, Tex., and Vincent Husband, New Orleans, pitchers. Both are right-handers. Husband had a 7 and 4 record and Beverly 8-3.

The batting averages of the infielders and outfielders for 1951 were: Guice .274, Brooks .271, Price .212, Cunningham .212 and Hancock .190.

Two other Eagle players were sold last fall to the St. Louis Browns. They were Jeremie Heard, a pitcher, and Curley Williams, infielder.

Dr. Martin said other players would be disposed of soon or given their unconditional release. He also said that he will serve as part-time scout for the Pirates.

Mays With Giants Until 'Yanks' Call

NEW YORK (ANP)—Willie Mays, youthful center fielder of the New York Giants and the National League's "Rookie of the Year," has signed his 1952 contract and will report to the Giants' training camp at Phoenix, Ariz., pending action of the Birmingham draft board.

Mays, who recently passed his physical examination for the Armed Forces, said he would remain with the team until he is ordered to report for induction.

Okla. A. & M. Barred From Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (ANP)—The Drake Relays Committee announced last week that it will bar Oklahoma A. & M. from the 1952 Drake Relays because of the "Johnny Bright incident."

Drake University broke off relations with the Aggies and withdrew from the Missouri Valley Conference after Bright, All-American fullback from Fort Wayne, Ind., suffered his famous broken jaw.

•We're Still Pickin' ATTUCKS!

By CHARLES S. PRESTON and SYLVESTER ROWE
Crispus Attucks' Tigers, sporting an 18-1 record and rated third in Hoosierland, will end their regular season play at Winchester Saturday (Feb. 23) almost on the eve of the sectional tourney.

One thing about it—there's no danger of the Tigers' fangs growing dull through lack of exercise. Ray Crowe's boys are flinging basketballs right down to the wire. When they square away to dedicate Winchester's new gym, all other Naptown teams will already have ceased firing. And the contest comes a mere three days after he Crowmen made history by playing a scheduled game at Butler Fieldhouse (story on Page 1).

Winchester, a new school on the Tiger schedule, has already held some games in its new gymnasium but postponed the dedication until Attucks could come and do it right. That's a nice compliment to the Tigers.

Hallie's The Question
The contest is not expected to be too close. Chief interest of "Green-and-Gold" fans will likely center around Hallie Bryant's possible breaking of the Indianapolis city scoring record. Man with his season play then, and all's Dick Myers will be all through fallie will know what he has to hoot at. (Unless the Dunkirk game played after this page went to press, makes a fool of us.)

It is no secret that Tigerfolwers have been concerned about Hallie's basket slump in recent games. Coach Crowe believes that he city record business may have something to do with it. He said that Hallie has been tightening up on the floor, and the cause might be psychological tension over the Naptown scoring mark.

Certain it is that many thousands of fans are hoping and praying for the return to form of the beloved junior sharpshooter. After Winchester, it will be only our days until the sectional's begin.

The big news here in recent weeks has been the meteoric rise of Tech to a point where it can seriously challenge Attucks' domination of the local scene.

The first interracial team in Tech's history began its season indifferently, and poked along up-and-down through the middle weeks. Then it came on at the finish with a

NEWCOMER TONY CURTIS and Piper Laurie rate stardom in Universal-International's Technicolor "The Prince Who Was a Thief," adapted from a story by Theodore Dreiser. Josephine Baker Night Club Deal Called Off

NEW YORK (AP)—It was learned last week that Josephine Baker will not open a night club as reported several weeks ago. Instead, the celebrated star will go to Mexico City for four weeks of theatre and night club engagements.

Negotiations to open a projected night club to be called "Chez Josephine Baker" collapsed last week after a series of undisclosed difficulties arose.

DESPERATE MEASURES—are resorted to by Gig Young, (left), who, shielding himself with the child he has seized, holds at bay Brian Donlevy, commandant of the Army post and Virginia Grey, with whom he has been dancing, in a scene from "Slaughter Trail," which starts Sunday at the Avenue.

Song and Ballad Point Up Action in "Slaughter Trail"

The demand of an aroused Navajo Indian tribe for the three white men who have wronged it through the murder of one of their number injects a dangerous element into the plot of "Slaughter Trail," in which RKO Radio is starring Brian Donlevy, Gig Young, Virginia Grey, Andy Devine and Robert Hutton. The picture is presented in color by Cinecolor.

Eckstine Tour Hit With Fans

HOUSTON—Dance promoters are seeing the end of a slump in their business these days as singer Billy Eckstine continues on his record breaking tour. "Standing room only" signs are hung out nightly as turnaway audiences mob the auditoriums and dance halls he's currently appearing in. Appearing with Count Basie's Band, Mr. B. recently drew over 9,000 fans in Kansas City's Auditorium, racking up a $12,000 gross. It was the same in Dallas, Fort Worth and at the auditorium here. Extra details of city police are always necessary when a promoter announces that Eckstine is in town.

This Western, which is a tale of New Mexico in the Eighties, has been given a novel treatment, in that the entire action is related to the accompaniment of songs—Western-style ballads that run throughout, and supplement almost the entire action. These songs are largely the work of Terry Gilkyson, a featured member of the cast who does the singing, and of Sid Kuller, who wrote the original screenplay.

The list includes "Hootbeat Serenade," "I Wish I Wuz" and "Ballad Bandelier," written by Lyn Murray and Kuller; "Everyone's Crazy 'Ceptin' Me," by Gilkyson and Kuller; "The Girl in the Wood," by Gilkyson and Neal Stuart; and "Jittery Deerfoot Dan," by Gilkyson.

Johnny Hodges In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Johnny Hodges and his All-Stars have taken this city by storm in their current engagement at Singer's Rendezvous. The exciting Hodges combo, which has been hailed as the outstanding new musical crew of the past year, is making its first local appearance.

The Hodges aggregation is in the midst of a coast-to-coast tour that will take the band to California next month for its first Pacific coast appearances. Following their local stay, Johnny and his bandmen will open a week's engagement at Gleason's in Cleveland on February 18 and then do a week of one-night stands en route to Denver where they'll play two weeks at the Rossonian Lounge, starting March 3.

Teeing off their first California invasion, the Hodges All-Stars open a week's engagement at the Clayton Club, Sacramento, on March 19, to follow with two weeks at the Black Hawk, San Francisco, opening March 25, and then a fortnight at the Tiffany Club, Los Angeles, opening April 9.

Gossip of Movie Lots

By HARRY LEVETTE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Off now as soon as I finish this weekly message to you for the very pleasant mission of escorting Mrs. Eugenia Bradshaw, distinguished aunt of the boss (C. A. B.), on her final Hollywood tour before returning home to Chicago.

First to (maybe) invade the tightly closed set of "Affair in Trinidad," where there has been an atmosphere of temperance, and demands by star Rita Hayworth, that no visitors be allowed. Director Vincent Sherman of the big sensational Columbia feature, has been having his troubles, but not with the colorful group of Negro players in supporting and atmosphere roles, nor the very important Calypso singers. Beautiful Juanita Moore of "Lydia Bailey" has just been signed for a featured role.

If we at last through the efforts of unit man Bodyette, get past the "celluloid and zinc" curtain we'll tell you all about it, and the other stars, Glenn Ford, Torin Thatcher, Alexander Scourby, and Howard Wendell. If not we'll settle for "The Happy Time" over on another sound stage where Charles Boyer, Linda Christian, Bobby Driscoll, Marsha Hunt, and other screen celebs are hard at work for producer Stanley Kramer.

We were invited to the "Caribbean Gold" set at Paramount, but the big storm and flood was at its peak, hence travel was both difficult and dangerous. This adventure story, "Caribbean Gold," with Clarence Muse in one of the best featured roles of his career, wound up during that period, after affording a large number of colored atmosphere and supporting actors much needed employment.

David Bethea's Talent Night Is OK

NEW YORK CITY—Global—David Bethea, Harlem's well-known owner of his Theatrical Agency, is presenting a weekly Talent Night at Smalls Paradise every Thursday from 11 P.M. to 1 A.M. Mr. Bethea will present new talent and secure bookings for winners who are available.

As far as Piper Laurie is concerned, film stardom is just a series of charley-horses.

The 19-year-old Cinderella of Universal-International, raised to stardom with her third film, the Technicolor "The Prince Who Was a Thief," opening Sunday at the Walker Theatre, plays an imp of the tangerine streets in the film adaptation of the Theodore Dreiser story.

Tony Curtis, another screen newcomer, is a cleverly elevated to stardom playing the film's title role opposite Miss Laurie.

Piper had a comparatively easy time in her first two films, "Loulisa" and "The Milkman," but things were different in "The Prince Who Was a Thief."

First of all the red-haired Piper was thrown into a pool of water by leading-man Curtis, she got over by tossing a 150-pound man over her shoulder with a ju-jitsu trick.

Amos Milburn's 'Big Little Band' at Sunset Sunday

Featuring "Chicken Shack Boogie"

MOPPS MARSHALL, sensational entertainer and popular guitarist, has hit his stride in The Recorder Musicians and Vocalists poll, judging from the number of ballots received last week at The Recorder office. A ballot box has been installed in The Recorder office for the convenience of our readers. Be sure and mark ballot on theatrical page in this issue. Each ballot is good for 10 VOTES.

That sensational singing, piano-playing "Chicken Shack Boogie Man"—Amos Milburn, and his little band, exclusive Aladdin Recording artists, will appear at the Sunset Terrace on Sunday nite, Feb. 24, for a one-nite dance engagement. This will mark the first time the crowd-pleasing maestro has played the spot in several months.

Amos and the boys have smashed all sales records with "Chicken Shack Boogie" and "Bewildered." Although only twenty-two years old and recently discharged from the Navy, Amos' records of the two popular song hits have zoomed him up to the top of all popularity lists. Both of these discs have headed Variety lists longer than any other race record of the past season and there is still no sign of abatement. Both of these hits have sold more than 500,000 copies and are still selling. The magic of the Milburn voice and piano have made him the biggest double-threat in the country.

Critic Sees Buddy's Ork As Best In '52

NEW YORK — Considered a topflight judge of band talent, arranger Fred Norman predicted this week that Buddy Johnson's band will emerge as the country's outstanding aggregation of '52.

Noted for his musical scores for such known maestros as Tommy Dorsey, Charlie Spivak, etc., Norman remarked that fame is overdue for the talented Buddy, who has had a band since '44. But it wasn't until five years later that his crew started winning national attention.

RCA MOVES FORWARD IN 1951

1951 was highlighted by the progress made in the field of Industrial Race Relations by many of the nation's leading businesses. Among the concerns cited by the Negro National Community for its contribution towards improved relationship was the Radio Corporation of America.

During 1951 RCA was awarded the Ebony Magazine Award for "outstanding industrial race relations." Ebony publisher, John H. Johnson, in making the presentation said that the award had been especially revived after a two-year lapse, in recognition of RCA's "unbiased racial integration."

Throughout the year RCA facilities were made available to meetings of the NAACP, in Atlanta; the National Urban League, in S. Paul; the E. K. in Buffalo; and the National Council of Negro Women, in Washington.

In December, RCA officials addressed a Communications Electronics forum at Morgan State College which was jointly sponsored by the Baltimore Urban League and the college's placement center.

In keeping with RCA's integrated employment practices, three young Negro engineers were among the top graduates of leading U.S. colleges and universities who started their careers in 1951 under the RAC's specialized training program.

on the night of Lincoln's birthday and boy was he mad.

The mansion lawn was lit up with firemen, policemen and detectives, answering the state chief executive's emergency call.

The governor was not at all afraid, he said. Here is how he described the burning cross near the mansion:

"I raised the front window to see what was going on. . . . A mansion guard ran out with a broom and knocked the thing to the ground, but he couldn't put it out."

"That's the fourth one in 60 days."

When queried about the fiery symbol, the governor said, "I'll Ethel Waters, who will be seen in "The Member of the Wedding" at the Murat Theatre for three nights and Wednesday matinee beginning February 25, never expected to be a legitimate actress. During the early years of her career she even felt uncertain of entertaining in theatres or night clubs that catered primarily to white people. She was afraid that only Negroes would appreciate her type of singing.

When Earl Dancer finally convinced her that she was certain that she should accept engagements in big-time vaudeville with him, she was certain that her first white audience—at the Kedzie Theatre in Chicago—didn't like her because they were applauded and didn't stamp and shout as did audiences in the colored theatres she was accustomed to playing.

But eventually Miss Waters got used to white audiences—and high-ly enthusiastic audiences too—in such venues as "As Thousands Cheer" and "At Home Abroad," in "Cabin in the Sky" and in two great dramatic successes, "Mama's Daughters" and the current "The Member of the Wedding." Today she smiles when she recalls that once the thought of facing an audience of her own race so frightened her that she refused an offer from Morris Gest to play an important role in "Chu Chin Chow."

THE 'CHIPPY' CHARMER: The fame of Sidney Bechet venerable Pied Piper of the clarinet, has not dimmed since his recent marriage and intention to settle down. Shown here in action at the club Du Vietx during a "welcome home" party in his honor, the jazz great charms a bevy of pretty scarlettes with his "licorice stick." Bechet has been in constant demand as a soloist and guest star since he migrated to Europe almost twenty years ago.

N. Y. COUPLE RECEIVE HERO'S AWARD HONORING DEAD SON

NEW YORK (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Van Charlton of the Bronx received notice from the Army last week of the posthumous award of the Medal of Honor to their son, Sgt. Cornelius H. Charlton, 21 years old.

It is the second New York Negro to receive the nation's highest military award for heroism since the Spanish-American War. Pfc. William Thompson of Harlem was similarly honored in Korea last July.

The Congressional Medal has been awarded 41 soldiers since the outbreak of the Korean conflict.

Sgt. Charlton was credited with having been over a platoon after his officer was wounded. He led an assault up a hill and wiped out several enemy positions with grenades and rifle fire, and killed six foes.

Died Fighting Enemy

Repulsed in this engagement last June 2 near Chipo, he later led another assault on the hill, clearing the enemy from the crest. While trying to clear out the last emplacement he was struck by a grenade and fatally wounded. Before the fatal blast he had been knocked down by the blast of another grenade. Even though deeply wounded in the chest, he charged on after seeing that all his wounded comrades had been taken to the rear. An official account reported that after he had been mortally wounded by the

Sgt. Charlton was a graduate at Theodore Roosevelt high school when he joined the army. He was a member of the 24th Infantry of the 25th Infantry Division. During World War II two of his brothers were in the service—one a Marine and one a Coast Guardsman.

BAILEY—In loving memory of my cousin Elnora Bailey, who passed away February 23, 1939.
My dear has God, ever told why
He called you so suddenly that night,
And you didn't have time to tell me
That you were going away.
Are you happy up there without me,
You loved me so dearly I know
And you couldn't even have to let me
If God, had needed you so.
I am lonesome here without you
I sometimes can hardly say,
But I am coming to live with you
When God, calls me some day.

Baptists Issue Call To Observe World Prayer Day

CHICAGO (ANP)—A national call has been issued throughout the country for Christians to observe a World Day of Prayer between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., Friday, Feb. 29.

Sponsored by the woman's convention and the young people's department of the National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., Inc., World Day of Prayer appeals to every person to sign a pink slip agreeing to pray on this day. Ministers are asked to select one person from each board club or auxiliary and form a church-wide World Day of Prayer committee, which will appoint members to manage the prayer service all day.

Miss Nannie H. Burroughs, president of the woman's convention, and Mrs. Etta Versa Frye, national director of the young people's department, have issued the call.

SWEETEN STOMACH TO SWEETEN CHILD

When constipation occasionally upsets little stomachs, children often act up, or sulk because they feel miserable, can't eat or sleep right. That's why wise mothers give Syrup of Black-Draught whenever youngsters suffer digestive upset from constipation. Its wonderful laxative action can help sweeten such sour stomachs, too! Then how dispositions improve! Laxative-Stomach Sweetener Works Overnight! Syrup of Black-Draught tastes honey-sweet, so children take it eagerly. Made of nature's pur- vegetable herbs—acts thoroughly, but gently. Given at bedtime, brings comforting relief in morning—thus helps sweeten sour stomach too. Youngsters actually sleep away these constipation worries! Next day feel good, laugh and play! No wonder 17,000,000 bottles sold. Get Syrup of Black-Draught from drugstore. Works wonders for a child's good nature!

ADULTS—For constipation try regular Black-Draught, laxative-stomach sweetener, famous since 1840. Familiar Powder, Granulated or convenient new Tablet form.
